

Contents

Foreword by Ulrich Sieber	V
Abbreviations	XI

Introduction to the basic characteristics and fundamental principles of the criminal law and Penal Code of Greece

by Emmanouil Billis

I. General characteristics of the Greek criminal justice system	1
1. Constitutional framework and fundamental rights	1
2. International ties	4
3. Comparative legal classification and sources of criminal law	6
4. Stages and organs of criminal prosecution and trial	8
5. Criminal courts	10
6. Principles of criminal procedure	11
II. Historical and theoretical foundations of the Penal Code	12
III. Structure of the Penal Code: general and special part	15
IV. General principles and rules of the Penal Code	16
1. Principle of legality and principle of guilt	16
2. Territorial limits of force of the penal laws	20
3. Classification of criminal offences and the system of penal sanctions	22
4. Concept and internal structure of the criminal offence	24
a) Definition and structure of the criminal offence	24
b) Objective side of the criminal offence	26
aa) General remarks	26
bb) Offender	27
cc) Act	27
dd) Crimes of omission	28
ee) Object of the act	29
ff) Result of the offence	29
gg) Causation requirement	31
c) Subjective side of the criminal offence	32
aa) General remarks	32
bb) Intent	33

cc) Consciousness of wrongdoing and dolus malus	36
dd) Mistakes of fact and law	36
ee) Offences of negligence	37
5. Grounds for excluding criminal liability	39
a) Introductory remarks	39
b) Grounds of justification	41
c) Grounds for excluding imputability	44
6. Grounds for expunging criminal liability	45
a) Overview	45
b) Limitation periods	47
c) Criminal complaint by the victim	48
7. Attempt	49
8. Participation	51
Bibliography and further reading	53

The Greek Penal Code

English translation by Vasiliki Chalkiadaki and Emmanouil Billis

First book: General part	65
First chapter	The penal law	65
	I. Time limits of force of the penal laws	65
	II. Territorial limits of force of the penal laws	66
	III. Relationship of the Code with special laws and explanation of its terms	68
Second chapter	The punishable act	69
	I. General provisions	69
	II. The wrongful character of the act	70
	III. The imputability of the act	71
	IV. Offenders with diminished capacity for imputability	73
Third chapter	Attempt and participation	75
	I. Attempt	75
	II. Participation	76
Fourth chapter	Punishments, measures of security, and compensation	77
	I. Main punishments	77
	II. Supplementary punishments	79
	III. Measures of security	82
	IV. Compensation	87

Fifth chapter	Assessment of punishment	87
	I. General rules	87
	II. Recidivists and habitual offenders	93
	III. Concurrence of criminal offences	95
Sixth chapter	Conditional suspension of punishment and conditional release	97
	I. Conditional suspension of the execution of punishment	97
	II. Conditional release of the convict	100
Seventh chapter	Grounds for expunging punishability	108
	I. Limitation periods	108
	II. Waiver of criminal complaint	110
Eighth chapter	Special provisions for minors	111
Second book: Special part		118
First chapter	Offences against the system of government	118
Second chapter	Treason against the country	122
Third chapter	Criminal offences against foreign states	125
Fourth chapter	Criminal offences against the free exercise of political rights	126
	I. Criminal offences against political bodies and the Government	126
	II. Criminal offences during elections	128
Fifth chapter	Offences against state authorities	129
Sixth chapter	Violation of public order	133
Seventh chapter	Violation of the religious peace	142
Eighth chapter	Criminal offences concerning military service and the obligation to join the army	143
Ninth chapter	Currency-related criminal offences	145
Tenth chapter	Document-related criminal offences	148
Eleventh chapter	Criminal offences related to the administration of justice	150
Twelfth chapter	Service-related criminal offences	153
Thirteenth chapter	Criminal offences endangering the general public	164
Fourteenth chapter	Criminal offences against the safety of transport and telephone communications, and against public utilities	170

Fifteenth chapter	Criminal offences against life	174
Sixteenth chapter	Bodily harm	176
Seventeenth chapter	Dueling	179
Eighteenth chapter	Criminal offences against personal freedom	179
Nineteenth chapter	Criminal offences against sexual freedom and criminal offences related to commercial sexual exploitation	185
Twentieth chapter	Criminal offences related to marriage and family	194
Twenty-first chapter	Criminal offences against honour	196
Twenty-second chapter	Breaches of confidentiality	199
Twenty-third chapter	Criminal offences against property	202
Twenty-fourth chapter	Criminal offences against assets	207
Twenty-fifth chapter	Begging and vagrancy	213
Twenty-sixth chapter	Petty violations	213
	I. General provisions	213
	II. Specific petty violations	214
Twenty-seventh chapter	Final provisions	221
Third book: Transitional provisions		223
Index		227