PREFACE TO THE CHINOOK JARGON AND THOMPSON VOCABULARY.

The Chinook Jargon, or Indian trade language of British Columbia, as its name implies, is no proper national tongue, but an ingeniously constructed compilation from a variety of sources, by means of which communication might be held with all the aboriginal races, irrespective of their own tongue. It depends upon the accent given to many of its words and phrases for the meaning the speaker would convey—e. g., “siyah” would be “some distance,” whereas “si-yâh” would mean “a very long way off indeed.” So again, other words used as prefixes give an intensitive sense to the expression. Thus “kloosh” is “good,” and “klat-a-wah,” is to go, whereas “kloosh klat-a-wah” would convey the idea “to make off as quickly as possible.”

The present edition is written phonetically, and may readily be acquired by all consulting its pages, and the mode of pronunciation is such as prevails in this Province. Where the same word is given in the Chinook as in English, it is to be understood that the English term has come into general use by all our Indians.

The Editor has thought it advisable to make this Chinook Compilation the basis and text of his issue of the first pure Indian Vocabulary of the before unpublished national languages of the mainland tribes of B. C. This Nitla-kap-a-muk, or commonly called Thompson Tongue, is spoken by some 2,500 native Indians, who inhabit the interior of the mainland between Yale and Lillooet, following the Frazer; and, between Lytton the Buonaparte and Nicola Lake, following the Thompson and Nicola rivers which flow into the Frazer. The two adjoining tribes, viz.: Zo-whappa-muk or Shu-swhaps, and the Sclay-tle-a-muk or Lillooets, speak strictly cognate tongues, but the Thompson is the parent stem.

By comparing the following pages any one may now readily comprehend the difference which exists between an arbitrary motley jargon, like the Chinook, and a grand Primitive National Language like the Thompson, which—the more it is understood, will excite admiration and astonishment at its richness, capacity and completeness. The outlines of Grammar and conversations will be interesting to all who have any taste for Comparative Philology; and in the next edition both the vocabulary and grammar can be enlarged to any extent.

The immediate construction of the C. P. Railway through the District, almost exclusively occupied by the Thompson-speaking Indian nation will, it is hoped, make this handy Publication a most useful and almost indispensable Pocket-Help to all whose affairs may be identified with this route. The Public at large also will, it is confidently believed, show its appreciation of the labour involved by an extensive purchase of so novel yet necessary a Publication. May it prove also to be only a pioneer experiment of more successful attempts to enable the enquiring to acquaint themselves with the special merits of the other independent Indian Tongues of this Province; and by which it can alone be accurately determined to what Branch our native Tongues belong.

OUTLINES OF GRAMMAR.

The letters that are never used in expressing the Thompson language, as borrowed from the English alphabet, are d, f, j and v.

Our r is occasionally required; but it only appears in some half dozen words at present examined.

It is not by any means a deeply guttural tongue, like that of the Lower Fraser, though some words, pronounced from the throat—involving certain mutes—that with the aid only of our English sounds can but be approximately exhibited.

It is a surprisingly rich, euphonious and expressive tongue, abounding in abstract and metaphysical terms, with a superabundance of synonymes. It involves in construction the use of particles that are constantly affecting the context, whilst the Conjugations of the Verbs are most elaborate and precise.

Onomatopoeic words and phrases abound. The noun, verb and object constantly coalesce, and by means of inflections one compound word will often express what we can only make clear by many.

The retention and transmission of a tongue so perfect and highly organised is surely in itself a marvellous fact, and would infer possibly the original superior condition of those possessing it. They may thus have fallen from some previous state of civilization and come as a great wave of immigration from Eastern climes.

The grand point, however, to determine is, shall we class this language amongst the strictly agglutinive tongue, like the Cree and Objibeway on the other side of the Rocky Mountains, or has it more of a semitic caste? This can only be decided as a fact in Comparative Philology, by comparing a given number of facts or characteristics of this tongue with those above mentioned. The compiler's opinion is that it is strictly akin to those of Central Asia. Certainly the Thompson Indians are very Eastern or Asiatic in their physiognomy, their names being identical with those of ancient times as Æneas, Asenath; and moreover they undergo exactly the same changes as did the Hebrew names, as occur in the genealogies of St. Matthew and St. Luke. Their burial customs are also Eastern—having the family sepulchre, and the gathering up of bones, the sacrifices, offerings and feasts for the dead. They were also Baalites, or Worshippers of Fire. They have too their periods for separation, washing, fasting and mourning; whilst their name for a doctor “Shoo-ka-nahm,” “the knowing Seer,” who divines by incantation, reminds us of the days of Balaam, who came out of the East.

Perhaps a translation of the following story, (for which the Translator is indebted to Dr Ellis, of Yale) into what may properly be described as classic Thompson, will enable competent judges to say positively to what class of the world's tongues this belongs.

PART I.

THE NOUN.

NUMBER.

The Plural in general is formed by a reduplication of the first syllable, as ha zált, a table; zalzalt, tables.

GENDER.

By different words as, a boy, tà ôte; a girl, tumulakum; father, scatzazah; mother, skeezizah; husband, ashyawah; wife, she-mam.

By prefixas, askyú tlowhymat, a man widower; samooelats tlowhymat, a woman widow; askyû melahmayit, a man doctor.

But child skookamyte; a boy, seeseane; a girl, smák-ah; so also swoyclats, a mountain sheep; hazomemáltse, a he; towtse, a female.

Abstract Nouns are formed from Verbs, as nauqh, to steal; nuq-nauqhkolt, a thief; peakem, to hunt; peakkummolt, a hunter.

From qeetamuchchin, I send, we get Speetamuk, One Sent, an Apostle.

CASE.

All the Nouns undergo change in construction, as Scatzazah, Father, appears as Scatzazact and Scatzazas.

The Possessive generally follows the foreign mode rather than the English. Thus we say, "My father's house," but they, "cheatus hah tlan scatzazact," the house of my father.

The Objective Case, or rather object of an action, is constantly incorporated in the Verb which, in turn, is affected by every different idea presented. We say, "I strike the head," with them one word expresses all, scapkattum; and so neshikatam, "I strike his foot."

ADJECTIVE.

A good boy. Eah-tuc to-ôte.

A bad man. Kest-tuc clo skyyû.

A beautiful woman. Chúkchúckote tic samooclats.

A fine day. Eah tic seetlekut.

COMPARISON.

Sweet, sweeter, sweetest. Tlict, toowah clict, Kea tuc klict.

Great, greater, greatest. Hazome, hazome towah, kea tuc hazome

Good, better, best. Eah, eah towah, kea tikeah.

Little, less, least. Quemeema, quemeema towah, whonack tuc quameema.

Then besides they express the idea of less by changing the verb, noun or adjective

An ox. Stômalt. A little ox. Stômalt-titteet.

An axe. Kowéskun. A little axe. Kowe-whéskun.

I strike strongly. Shik-atana.

I strike it a little. Shikshikatàna.

Talk (ordinary). Quaintatta.

Talk (feebly, or a little). Quey-queyyan tatta.

To tell. Peelachina.

To tell, a little small talk. Pilpeepelachina.

To chop a thing in large pieces. Zezoitsta.

THE VERB.

The Verb is "par excellence," the Word (Verbum) in this remarkable Tongue; presenting almost inconceivable niceties and kinds of combination, interpenetration, excision, extension, and complétion, (for they have even perfective Verbs as from "Clawqtana" I nail, we have "Axclawqenawhéna" I have driven it home and finished it; so again, "Yehumstana" is simply I know, but "Yehumweegstana" means I perfectly comprehend or apprehend any matter; like the distinction between Gi-nôskô and Epistômai), and is most minute and precise in Conjugations, Moods and Tenses. This is the more observable seeing the Revd. J. Knipe, in his Tabkaht Grammar (the Indians on the West Coast of Vancouver) says "So far as I am aware their verbs have no tenses but the present and no distinction between singular and plural." The Nitlakapamucks, however, have an infinite variety of use, especially in their compound forms. These involve Noun, Adjective, Pronoun and Adverb,—all concentrated in this grand vehicle of Speech,—which thus enlists a host of auxiliaries in its train; amalgamating and incorporating them under every possible aspect.

The most usual Conjugation has "ana" as sign of ending of Ist P. Thus from root, "Huz," we derive Huzstana, I love, and it is thus conjugated:—

INDICATIVE MOOD.

PRESENT TENSE.

Huzstana, huzstoqh huzstas, Huzstam huzstap huzsteeigs.

Past Tense. Kloos-huzstana. I have loved.

 Passive. To be loved. Huzstamose.
 To love myself. Huzhuzchute.
 God loves us. Tl-kailth Kokepe huzstyis.
 I love you-all. Huzstoemun pe-hapts takamose.

Another large body of Verbs end in "kin" as Naskin, I go.

PRESENT.

Naskin, nasquon, nass. Nasct, naskup, nyis.

PAST. I WENT.

Singular. Akeetchkinclum, akeetchqunclum, akeetchclum.
