

Contents

Preface	V
Figures	XIII
Tables	XVIII
Abbreviations	XIX

Part 1: Introduction

I. Object of Present Study	1
A. Compliance as a Research Topic	1
B. Definitions	2
1. Compliance	2
2. “Small”, “Middle-sized” and “Large” Companies	2
II. Current State of Research	2
A. Scope of Economic Crime	3
1. Criminological Research	3
a) Studies by Research Institutions	3
b) Police Statistics	4
2. Studies by Private Organizations	6
3. Summary	8
B. Prosecution of Economic Crimes and Regulatory Offenses	9
1. Prosecution of Economic Crimes	9
2. Prosecution of Economic Regulatory Offenses (“Ordnungswidrigkeiten”)	10
3. Summary and Resulting Questions	14
C. Emergence of Compliance Programs	15
1. Current Situation.....	15
a) Increasing Importance of Compliance Programs	15
b) Academic Empirical Studies	16
c) Studies by Private Organizations	17
2. General Legal and Self-Regulatory Compliance Frameworks	19
a) Legal Regulation	19
b) Self-Regulation: General Auditing Standard for Compliance	21
c) Discourse on “Compliance and Criminal Law”	21

3. Open Questions	24
III. Aims and Methods of Present Study	25
A. Research Aims	25
B. Research Methods	26
1. Questionnaire-Based Information Gathering from Business Experts	26
a) Questionnaire 1 (2012/2013)	26
aa) Structure of the Questionnaire	26
bb) Selection and Contacting of Interviewees	27
b) Questionnaire 2 (2013)	29
aa) Reasons for the Additional Questionnaire	29
bb) Structure of the Questionnaire	29
cc) Selection and Contacting of Interviewees	30
c) Execution of the Analysis	30
aa) Number of Answers, Percentage, and Rounding	30
bb) General and Specific Analysis	31
cc) “Three Most Important Answers”	31
dd) Average and Median	31
ee) T-Test	32
2. Analysis of Compliance Documents Published on the Internet	33
C. Structure of the Following Report	33

Part 2: Content and General Evaluation of Compliance Programs

I. Content of Compliance Programs	34
A. Basic Types and Targeted Topics of Compliance Programs	34
1. Compliance Programs and Other Types of Programs	35
a) Types of Programs	35
b) Existing Compliance Measures	37
c) Comparison with Previous Studies	38
2. Topics Targeted and Their Importance	39
a) Topics Targeted	39
b) Three Most Important Compliance Topics	44
c) Comparison with Previous Studies	46
3. Importance of Compliance Topics	47
4. Rules to be Enforced by Compliance Programs	52
B. Organizational Responsibility for Compliance Programs	53
1. Compliance Responsibility	53
2. Reporting by the Compliance Department	56
3. Reporting by the Chief Compliance Officer	56

4.	Size and Location of Compliance Department	58
5.	Comparison with Previous Studies	58
C.	Elements of Compliance Programs	59
1.	Measures of Information and Education	59
a)	Types of Measures	59
aa)	Results	59
bb)	Comparison with Previous Studies	61
b)	Use of External Experts	63
c)	Education Techniques	66
2.	Measures to Detect Irregular or Unethical Behavior	67
a)	Types of Measures	67
aa)	Results	67
bb)	Comparison with Previous Studies	73
b)	Reported Incidents	75
c)	Number of Detection Measures and Influence of Reported Incidents	77
3.	Organizational Measures and Internal Sanctions in Case of Infringements	81
a)	Organizational Measures	81
b)	Sanctions	82
aa)	Types of Sanctions	82
bb)	Importance of Different Sanctions	83
4.	Special Commitment of Top Management	84
5.	Culture and Values	86
a)	Culture and Crime	86
b)	Social Values and Activities	90
c)	Comparison with Previous Studies	94
6.	Other Components of Compliance Programs	95
D.	Compliance Investigations	96
1.	Victimization	96
a)	Victimization of Company	96
b)	Victimization of Third Parties	97
c)	Relevance of Economic Crime	99
aa)	Relevance of Economic Crime in General	99
bb)	Relevance of Economic Crime for own Company	99
d)	Comparison with Previous Studies	101
2.	Carrying Out Compliance Investigations	102
a)	Number and Types of Investigated Incidents	102
b)	Investigative Support by Means of Compliance Structure	104
c)	Responsible Investigators	105
d)	Costs of External Experts Involved in Internal Investigations	106

3.	Employees and Investigations	108
a)	Employee Protection	108
b)	Amnesty Programs	110
c)	Costs of Legal Advice for Employees	113
4.	Insurance	113
II.	Evaluation of Compliance Measures	113
A.	Effectiveness of Legal Regulations for Crime Prevention	113
B.	Effectiveness of Compliance Efforts for Crime Prevention	116
1.	Implementation and Revision of Compliance Measures	116
a)	Year of Creation	117
b)	Reasons for Taking Up Compliance Measures	117
c)	Improvement of the Compliance Program	118
aa)	Results of Study	118
bb)	Comparison with Previous Studies	120
d)	Evaluating Creation and Improvement of Compliance Programs	121
e)	Cost-benefit Ratio	121
aa)	Results of Study	121
bb)	Comparison with Previous Studies	123
f)	Plans to Change Compliance Program	123
aa)	Results of Study	123
bb)	Comparison with Previous Studies	124
2.	Effectiveness of Compliance Measures	124
a)	Evaluation of Effectiveness of Compliance Measures	124
b)	Evaluation of Overall Effectiveness of Compliance Programs	132
c)	Comparison with Previous Studies	132
C.	Possible Incentives for Creating Compliance Programs	133
1.	Motives for Creating Compliance Programs	133
2.	Direct Enforcement Strategies by Creating Legal Compliance Duties	136
3.	Indirect Enforcement Strategies by Creating Legal Incentives	139
4.	Other Incentives	148
D.	Legal Regulation and Self-Regulation	148
E.	Other Aspects	150
III.	Interviewed Companies and Interviewees	150
A.	Interviewed Companies	150
1.	Legal Form and Listing	150
2.	Sector of Activity, Markets, and Size	152
B.	Interviewees	155

Part 3: Special Comparative Evaluation of Different Regulative Approaches

I.	Evaluation of Strategies for the Prevention of Crime	158
	A. Comparing Compliance Programs and Legal Sanctions for the Prevention of Crime	158
	B. Comparing Legal Sanctions Against Different Addressees for the Prevention of Crime	161
	C. Comparing Different Types of Sanctions for the Prevention of Crime	162
	1. Different Sanctions Applied Against the Perpetrator	162
	2. Different Sanctions Applied Against the Superior	165
	3. Different Sanctions Applied Against the Company	169
	D. Cross-Section Analysis	173
II.	Evaluation of Strategies for Creating Compliance Programs	174
	A. Direct Enforcement Strategies by Creating Legal Compliance Duties	175
	B. Indirect Enforcement Strategies by Creating Legal Incentives	177
	1. Motivating Effect of Sanctions Against the Perpetrator	178
	2. Motivating Effect of Sanctions Against the Superior	181
	3. Motivating Effect of Sanctions Against the Company	183
	C. Cross-Section Analysis	187
III.	Interviewed Companies and Interviewees	187
	A. Interviewed Companies	187
	B. Interviewees	191

Part 4: Results of Compliance Documents published by DAX 30 Companies

I.	Compliance and Online Presentation	193
II.	Legal Topics Covered	194
III.	Ethical Topics Covered	196
IV.	Information and Reporting Structures	197
V.	Compliance Instruction	197

Part 5: Summary and Conclusions

I.	Object, Aim, and Methodology of the Present Study	199
II.	Empirical Results on the Status of Compliance Programs in Germany	201
III.	Consequences and Hypotheses for Criminal Policy	204
IV.	Summing Up: Hypotheses in Short	218

Annex: Questionnaires and Tables T-Test

I. Questionnaires	221
A. Questionnaire 1	222
1. Paper Version	222
2. Online Version	244
B. Questionnaire 2	269
Paper Version	269
II. Tables T-Test	282
A. Questionnaire 1	283
1. Evaluation of Legal Measures	283
2. Direct Enforcement Measures for Compliance Programs	285
3. Indirect Enforcement Measures for Compliance Programs	285
B. Questionnaire 2	288
1. General Approaches	288
2. Sanctions Against the Perpetrator (Prevention)	289
3. Sanctions Against the Superior (Prevention)	290
4. Sanctions Against the Company (Prevention)	292
5. Direct Enforcement Strategies	295
6. Sanctions Against the Perpetrator (Compliance)	295
7. Sanctions Against the Superior (Compliance)	296
8. Sanctions Against the Company (Compliance)	297
9. Cross Criminal Analysis	298
Bibliography	301